

DANNY KNAPP

BASS GUITARIST · VOCALIST · SONGWRITER

The bassist your next project needs — reliable, musical, and ready.

BIOGRAPHY

Danny Knapp — known across the Southern California music scene as The Melonhead — has spent more than two decades earning a reputation as one of the region's most dependable and versatile bassists. Performing professionally since age 16, Danny is a regular performer at the legendary Whisky a Go Go, with additional credits at the Troubadour, the House of Blues, and Phoenix Symphony Hall, alongside frequent performances at casino venues across the country.

Equally at home in a high-energy tribute production or a polished studio session, Danny is the bassist for emo outfit We're No Gentlemen, ska powerhouse The Goodwin Club, and Iron Maiden tribute act Maiden United — while maintaining a busy calendar of session work, corporate events, and collaborations with artists across Southern California and beyond.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY

“Danny is not only a polished professional, but also a tremendous vibe on stage... His studio and recording talents will leave you in awe of what this Melonhead can come up with and accomplish during a session!”

— Saint Saunt, Singer/Songwriter, Producer

“Danny Knapp is one hell of a musician... He’s got a great ear for on the spot situations live and in studio. He’s fun to work with and has a great sense of humor. He’s the WHOLE package!”

— Tanya Jebeile, Lead Singer/Songwriter, Taysti

“Working with Danny was fantastic. His playing was exceptional, and he has an incredible ability to lock into a song while adding his own musicality in all the right places... I couldn’t have asked for a better bassist.”

— Apricity

“Danny is very professional... He is easy to work with and has great stage presence. Performing with him on stage is memorable, and I can trust Danny to deliver an excellent show.”

— Kitty Antix
